COM Marketing is expanding it's reach across the shores to our friends in New Zealand! We are excited to announce our new partnership with Exercise New Zealand beginning in quarter 3 of 2019.

“As a result of our successful partnership with Fitness Australia here in Australia we want to continue that same success in New Zealand. Which is why we have decided to partner with Exercise New Zealand” says COM Marketing CEO, Richard Toutounji.

Exercise New Zealand are the leading body of Fitness and Wellness in New Zealand and headed by CEO, Richard Beddie.

Both COM Marketing and Exercise New Zealand share a passion for building healthy nations through training and supporting fitness and health professionals to create fitter, healthier and more active people. This has resulted in a perfect opportunity for a partnership.

The details of the partnership will soon be released. At this time we can say that every registered exercise professional will have the ability to maximise their marketing through solid and proven education as well as enjoy the benefits of working with a proven and dedicated digital marketing team.

“We're really excited about working with COM Marketing, both as Exercise New Zealand and the enormous benefits that our members are going to receive as part of this partnership” says Richard Beddie in a recent announcement video for the partnership.

At COM Marketing we have successfully helped to double and even triple small businesses through our proven COM Process which guides fitness professionals through an 8 month series of modules to help grow their businesses. By doing this they create a ripple effect through their community and the nation and impact countless numbers of people.

Our Motto is to not leave anyone behind, combined with Exercise New Zealand's strategic intent of growing participation in structured exercise through advocacy, information and industry standards, gives hope of a strong partnership and impact across both the nation of Australia and New Zealand.
